Missouri Department of Corrections

Mission Statement

The Missouri Department of Corrections supervises and provides rehabilitative services to adult offenders in correctional institutions and Missouri communities to enhance public safety.

Message from the Director:

For our department, 2011 will be remembered as the year we gave back. Throughout the year we have been tested by the wrath of natural disasters and by the ongoing needs of our communities. With compassion and resounding resilience, our department answered the call.

Our Restorative Justice gardens produced in excess of 65 tons of fresh produce for food pantries throughout the state. In the aftermath of the tornado that devastated Joplin, our department sent numerous offender-made items and donations to assist the residents as they worked feverishly to rebuild their community. When rising flood waters threatened to leave their banks, our offenders filled and stacked sandbags to protect our neighbors.

Dhuz

Whether it was Restorative Justice, helping a fellow employee, participating in a community fundraiser, volunteering with Puppies for Parole, filling sandbags, tutoring or clean up, giving back strikes at the core of what makes our department so special. Our most valuable asset is the 13,000 employees who comprise the Department of Corrections. Their commitment to our mission and cause is without parallel.

As we look ahead to 2012, the dawn of a new day is upon us. With that will come new struggles and challenges. Our department will again rise to the occasion. Our recidivism rate continues to decline, but our goal will not be met until that figure reaches zero. We continue to focus on evidence-based practices, collaboration, and providing our staff with the tools and skills needed to be most effective at protecting public safety.

Sincerely,

As our department continues to evolve and adapt to the changing landscape, we will continue to be innovative to meet those needs. This truly is an exciting time to be a correctional professional in the State of the Missouri, and I am proud to serve as the director of such a fine organization.

2099 Year in review

Reentry - Mentally III Offenders:

More than 60 percent of severely mentally ill offenders released from prison in 2005 returned to prison within two years. This group was identified as having a higher probability of returning to prison than offenders with no mental illness or those with moderate mental illness. To help combat this problem and assist severely mentally ill offenders' successful transition back into the community, the "MH-4 Project" was initiated in 2008. This program helps connect mentally ill offenders with services in the community, and helps subsidize services when needed. As a result of this effort, the return to prison rate declined remarkably to 26 percent after two years.

Department Receives Award:

The department received the Elaine Aber Humanitarian Award for its ongoing commitment to the Missouri Reentry Process. Tina Waldron, reentry manager, received the award on behalf of the department at the Missouri Association for Social Welfare's (MASW) annual conference on Nov. 4, 2011. The Elaine Aber Humanitarian Award was created by the MASW State Board in 2001 to honor Mrs. Aber's long-time work in social justice. The award is given to a person or organization who has contributed to the mission of the MASW through education, research, policy development and/or advocacy. The department understands and embraces its role in successfully transitioning offenders back into the community; however, this is work the department does not do alone. Due to our partnerships in local communities and with other state agencies, we have the opportunity to be innovative in improving the transition process, and providing the structure and support necessary to change people's lives.

Wheels for the World:

This year, offenders at Southeast Correctional Center (SECC) joined with offenders at Ozark Correctional Center (OCC) and Women's Eastern Reception, Diagnostic and Correctional Center (WERDCC) to help the Wheels for the World Ministry. The ministry provides refurbished wheelchairs, walkers, crutches and canes to developing countries. At the beginning of August, offenders at SECC finished cleaning and performing light maintenance on its first allotment of equipment - 100 walkers. The offenders hope to increase this effort to 300. Currently, WERDCC cleans approximately 500 walkers per year, and OCC cleans numerous wheelchair parts. Chair Corp, a volunteer organization that collects equipment for Wheels for the World, hopes to open a wheelchair restoration shop at OCC in the near future.

Restorative Justice Cardens

In 2011, offenders within the Missouri Department of Corrections have produced more than 128,887 pounds (or 65 tons) of produce through the Restorative Justice Garden Program, and donated the food to local pantries throughout the state. For many of the food pantries, this is the only fresh produce available to people in need. This year's harvest is significantly higher than last year's total of 29 tons produced and donated. Offenders typically start cultivating the food plots in April, and harvesting usually begins in July and ends in the late fall. All of the starter seeds and plants for the gardens are donated.

On May 22, 2011, a devastating EF5 tornado hit the city of Joplin, Missouri. It is ranked as one of the deadliest and costliest tornadoes in U.S. history. As soon as news of the tornado spread, staff and offenders alike sprang into action to help the city of Joplin in many ways. One of those efforts came in the form of stress pillows and cool ties. Offenders at Jefferson City Correctional Center made these items, and they were delivered to the Ozark Center in Joplin. A team of community crisis workers, known as Healing Joplin, went out into the community daily to check on its citizens and the legions of volunteers. Cool ties were passed out to provide relief in the soaring temperatures, while stress pillows were passed out to provide comfort to those working long hours or those suffering extreme stress and anxiety due to the natural disaster. Quilts were also made by offenders across the state and handed out to children and the elderly. Offenders from Ozark Correctional Center assisted with sorting donated items in a warehouse in Marshfield from June to September, for a total of 32 days.

Floods

Southeast and northwest Missouri were plagued by floods in 2011. Four institutions - Southeast Correctional Center, Potosi Correctional Center, Farmington Correctional Center and Eastern, Reception, Diagnostic and Correctional Center - assisted numerous counties in the southeast by filling and stacking sandbags for 10 days. Offenders from Southeast Correctional Center filled more than 55,000 sandbags within the institution for the flood relief effort. Seven institutions - Maryville Treatment Center, Western Reception, Diagnostic and Correctional Center, Western Missouri Correctional Center, Boonville Correctional Center, Chillicothe Correctional Center, Tipton Correctional Center, and Algoa Correctional Center - and the Kansas City Community Release Center answered the call in the northwest, filling and stacking sandbags for 36 days. BCC, TCC and ACC filled sandbags within the institutions for use in the flood relief efforts. In November, offenders from WRDCC completed 45 days of recovery efforts following flooding in Buchanan County, assisting with debris removal.

The best in the ovee business!

Emergency Preparedness/Workplace Violence Coordinator

Named Best in the Business by Corrections Today magazine

Michelle Kasak, a 16-year veteran of the department, was bestowed a "Best in the Business" designation by Corrections Today magazine, and was featured in the publication's June 2011 issue. As the emergency preparedness and workplace violence coordinator, Kasak is responsible for setting up new emergency training programs for the department and rejuvenating the workplace violence program. She recently completed training and writing procedures for the department's crisis negotiation team. In doing so, she researches emerging trends and recognizes the potential for new and more serious threats, and updates modules, plans, policies and procedure manuals accordingly. She ensures each facility conducts emergency exercises and receives updated National Incident Management System training. Employees who serve on the team take on a supportive role to their fellow co-workers who have been traumatized by an incident on the job or in their personal life. Finally, Kasak works to develop solid community and government partnerships, as she knows disasters have far reaching consequences, and our ability to respond often depends on a cooperative effort.
